RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT ON THE FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH JUNE 1918.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Forest Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 30TH DECEMBER 1918.

RESOLUTION—No. 9829For.

READ—

The Annual Progress Report on the Forest Administration in the Presidency of Bengal, for the year ending the 30th June 1918.

Read also—

The corresponding report of the previous year and the Government Resolution thereon.

SIR HENRY FARRINGTON was in charge of the Bengal Forest Circle throughout the year. He was on tour for 311 days and inspected all the Forest Divisions. Mr. A. R. Nicholson, Deputy Conservator of Forests, and Mr. J. M. Cowan, Assistant Conservator of Forests, were absent on military duty throughout the year, and Mr. L. E. S. Teague, another Deputy Conservator, during a part of the year.

2. Changes in area and in administration.—There was a small change in the area of the reserved forests under the Forest Department due to the inclusion of 495 acres in the Buxa Forest division. Four acres of the reserved forests in the Jalpaiguri and Buxa divisions were transferred to the charge of the Public Works Department without being disforested. There was no change in the area of the protected forests.

3. Reservation and Demarcation.—The settlement work in respect of the same area of 495 acres was completed during the year and the areas declared reserved forests. That in respect of the Holapara extension of the Titi Reserve in Jalpaiguri was also completed during the year. Effect has been given to this extension since the close of the year.

Some progress has been made in the work of demarcation in the Chittagong Hill Tracts division. The Governor in Council desires that this difficult, but important, work should be expedited in the remaining areas of the division.

4. Working plans.—No new working plans were sanctioned during the year, but a revised working scheme for the Kurseong Forest division for the period 1919-1926 was sanctioned after the close of the year. It was determined to adopt this course instead of preparing a new working plan for a longer period, as the important question of the method of regeneration of the forests of Northern Bengal is still under investigation. The main feature of the new scheme is the substitution of artificial for natural reproduction of sâl. A technical description is given in paragraphs 53-64 of the report under review of the different results obtained by natural and artificial reproduction generally.

The deviations from the sanctioned working plans have been sufficiently explained by the Conservator in his report.

Since the close of the year an officer has been specially deputed to prepare working plans for the Chittagong and the Chittagong Hill Tracts divisions with a view to meeting commercial and economic demands.

5. Communications and Buildings.—One mile of cart road, two miles of bridle-path and two miles of foot-path were constructed during the year. The total expenditure on communications amounted to Rs. 15,904 against Rs. 22,675, and on new buildings and repairs to Rs. 25,311 against Rs. 34,776, in the preceding year. The large decrease is attributable to the compulsory curtailment of expenditure on account of the war, but the Conservator reports that this low rate of expenditure cannot be maintained without involving heavier expenditure in the future.

6. Protection.—There was a slight increase in the total number of forest offences reported during the year, the number being 2,780 against 2,642 in the previous year. The average of the past three years was 2,276. In the Chittagong division where an increase of 129 was reported last year, there has been a still larger increase from 461 last year to 628 in the year under review. This the Conservator reports is primarily due to the inadequate punishments awarded to the offenders by the Courts.

The area in which fire protection was attempted during the year comprises 367.854 acres, and the percentage of successful protection was 97·9. The cost per square mile was Rs. 8-1 against Rs. 7-7 in the preceding year. The increase of cost is attributed to larger expenditure in the Kurseong division in putting out big fires. The area burnt over amounted to 7,566 acres against 8,290 in the previous year. In 19 out of 36 cases the causes of the fires were undetected. It is satisfactory to note that the damage done was not serious.

There was no change in the area open to grazing. The number of cattle impounded during the year was 4,720 against 5,226 in the previous year and 4,238, the average of the last three years. The decrease was mainly in the Buxa division due to the satisfactory working of the token system and to the proper punishment of offenders in the previous year.

The question of cattle-grazing in the Darjeeling hill forests was considered by Government and orders were issued after the close of the year for preventing hardship to graziers by allowing them in future to restore their herds to the previous strength when their numbers have been temporarily diminished for sufficient reasons, and by expediting the preparation of Government bathans with paddocks attached.

Observations on the spread of the sál root fungus were continued during the year in Buxa, Jalpaiguri and Kurseong Forest divisions. The information collected is still incomplete.

7. Exploitation.—Minor forest produce continued to be disposed of generally under permits at scheduled rates. There was a large increase in the outturn of bamboos and there were increased sales of bamboos and canes to the tea-gardens.

Departmental work increased considerably during the year owing to the fact that a large quantity of sleepers was sawn and supplied to the Munitions Board. Besides sleepers, timber, both round and sawn, was supplied for various purposes connected with the production of munitions. The outturn of timber increased from 6,187,000 last year to 7,645,000 cubic feet during the year under report.

Last season's khedda operations conducted by the Forest Department in the Buxa Forest division resulted in the capture of 33 elephants. One escaped, another died during extraction from the stockade, and two old females were released as having no sale value. Out of the remaining 29 elephants 24 were sold and five were retained by the Forest Department.

Forty-three elephants were also captured in Chittagong during the year. All were sold.

8. General.—The number of persons reported to have been killed by tigers in the Sundarbans was 14 against 19 in the previous year, and 86, the average of the last five years. This remarkable decrease is reported to be due to discrimination in the issue of tiger-shooting permits to approved shikaris as well as to a decided increase in the number of deer. The number of tigers killed was 46 including one cub.

The proposals for strengthening the controlling staff of the Forest Department mentioned in last year's Resolution were sanctioned by the Secretary of State during the year.

Mr. H. S. Gibson, Deputy Conservator of Forests, was permitted during his leave to study methods of forest engineering and mechanics in the United States of America. He submitted during the year an interesting report showing the results of the enquiries made during his tour.

9. Financial results.—During the year under review the total revenue increased from Rs. 14,33,555 in 1916-17 to Rs. 15,01,670, while the expenditure increased from Rs. 6,29,153 to Rs. 7,71,124 and the surplus amounted to Rs. 7,30,546 against Rs. 8,04,402 in the preceding year. The average of the last five years was Rs. 7,57,878.

The increase in expenditure and consequent decrease in the surplus is attributed mainly to the large expenditure on account of the departmental extraction of timber, which has increased from Rs. 402 last year to Rs. 1,08,844 in the year under review. As already mentioned, this expenditure was incurred mainly in connection with the production of munitions.

10. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Sir H. A. Farrington for his careful and efficient administration of the department during the year. His Excellency in Council notices with pleasure the Conservator's appreciation of the good work done by officers of the department and the references in the report to the efficient work of Forest subordinates.

Order.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the gazette and that a copy, with a copy of the report, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council.

M. C. McALPIN,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROCLAMATION OF SALE.

(Rule 46 of Schedule II to the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act.)

In the Court of the Khas Certificate Officer of Noakhali.

CERTIFICATE No. 1141 OF 1918-19.

Secretary of State for India in Council, Certificate-holder, versus Sreemati Azmalenessa Begum, wife of Munshi Moazzam Hossain Chaudhury, of Nulchera, thana Hatia, district Noakhali, Certificate-debtor.

NOTICE is hereby given that, under rule 44 in Schedule II to the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, an order has been passed by me for the sale of the properties mentioned in the schedule below, in satisfaction of the claim of the Certificate-holder under the certificate, mentioned above, amounting, with costs, to the sum of Rs. 25,143-14-3.

The sale will be by public auction, and the property will be put up for sale in the lots specified in the schedule. The sale will be of the property, of the Certificate-debtor abovenamed, as mentioned in the schedule below. The special condition regarding lot No. 1 (the property in arrear) is that it will first be put up to auction subject to registered and notified incumbrances, and will be sold subject to those incumbrances if the sum bid is sufficient to liquidate the amount specified in the certificate, and costs, and that otherwise, it will, if Certificate-holder so desires, be sold on a subsequent day, of which due notice will be given, with power to annul all incumbrances

In the absence of any order of postponement, the sale will be held by the Khas Certificate Officer at 12 A.M. on the 20th January 1919, at the Office of the Khas Certificate Officer, Noakhali. In the event, however, of the debt above specified, and the costs of the sale being tendered or paid before the knocking down of any lot, the sale will be stopped.

At the sale the public generally are invited to bid, either personally or by duly authorized agent.

The sale proclamation issued on the 28th November 1918 fixing the 2nd January 1919 for the sale is hereby cancelled.

The following are the further

Conditions of sale :—

1. The particulars specified in the schedule below have been stated to the best of the information of the Certificate Officer; but the Certificate Officer will not be answerable for any error, mis-statement, or omission in this proclamation.

2. The amount by which the biddings are to be increased shall be determined by the officer conducting the sale. In the event of any dispute arising as to the amount bid, or as to the bidder, the lot shall at once be again put up to auction.

3. The highest bidder shall be declared to be the purchaser of any lot, provided always that he is legally qualified to bid, and provided that it shall be in the discretion of the officer holding the sale to decline acceptance of the highest bid when the price offered appears so clearly inadequate as to make it advisable to do so.

4. For reasons recorded, it shall be in the discretion of the officer conducting the sale to adjourn it, subject always to the provisions of rule 50 in Schedule II to the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913.

5. The person declared to be the purchaser shall pay immediately after such declaration a deposit of 25 per cent. on the amount of his purchase-money to the officer conducting the sale, and in default of such deposit the property shall forthwith be put up again and resold.

6. The full amount of the purchase-money shall be paid by the purchaser before the office of the Certificate Officer closes on the fifteenth day after the sale of the property, exclusive of such day, or, if the fifteenth day be a Sunday or other holiday, then on the first office day after the fifteenth day.

7. In default of payment of the balance of the purchase-money within the period allowed, the property shall be resold after the issue of a fresh notification of sale. The deposit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, may, if the Certificate Officer thinks fit, be forfeited to the Government, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the property or to any part of the sum for which it may be subsequently sold.

Given under the seal of the Court, this the 14th day of December 1918.

GIRIJA BHUSHON GHOSHAL, Khas Certificate Officer.

N.B.—The constitution of the committee and the rules for their guidance should be approved by the Inspector of Schools or the Inspectress as the case may be.

(b) That the qualifications, character and experience of the Head Master and the rest of the teaching staff are satisfactory, that due provision is made in respect of the number of teachers and otherwise for carrying on all the courses of instruction in which the school desires to be recognised as competent to present candidates for the Admission Examinations and that the conditions governing the tenure of office of the Head Master and of the rest of the staff are such as to render proper continuity of work possible

(c) That the buildings in which the school is held are adapted for the purpose and are well lighted and ventilated, that the surroundings are unobjectionable and the equipment adequate.

(d) That the sanitary conveniences attached to the school are adequate and are kept in good order.

(e) That arrangements are made for the supply of good drinking water to the pupils and that facilities are provided to allow them to partake of refreshments.

(f) That due provision is made for the maintenance of a library with an adequate monthly allotment and for lending out appropriate books (not school text-books) for the use of pupils.

(g) That when recognition is sought in any branch of work such as experimental science involving (1) lectures which should be experimentally illustrated or (2) practical experimental work on the part of the students themselves, the apparatus and the facilities for the purpose are fully adequate.

2. On the receipt of information on the above points the Inspector of Schools or the Inspectress as the case may be, will arrange for an inspection of the school and submit the application to the Director of Public Instruction with definite recommendations, due regard being paid to the local necessity of the school and, in the case of a new school, its probable effect on existing schools.

3. The Director of Public Instruction will then decide whether recognition should be granted or not, and in the event of recognition being granted it shall be subject to the conditions specified in the following paragraphs.

4. 2. As will be seen, we have materially modified the form and intention of the Bill by the introduction of provisions relating to voluntary primary education. The Bill as originally presented to Council purposed to give to Commissioners of Municipalities, and local authorities of other selected areas, only the power to make primary education compulsory. A study of the opinions received on that Bill, and of other evidence relating to the present condition of primary education in the province, has convinced us that few municipalities are in a position to contemplate in one step advance from present conditions, in which municipalities have no organized system of primary schools, to compulsory primary education under municipal control, and that the Bill would consequently not be made widely operative. We are of opinion that a more gradual advance should be provided for, and that Municipal Commissioners may reasonably be expected to meet the full demand for voluntary primary education within the municipality before proceeding to make provision for the education of those boys whose education will be possible only under compulsion. The provisions for meeting the demand for primary education on a voluntary basis are set out in Part II of the Bill as now presented. It will be seen that the Commissioners' first step will be to face the situation by estimating the existing demand for primary education and the ultimate requirements under the proposed system of compulsion. The preparation of an estimate is obligatory, and, if Government are satisfied that resources are adequate, may be followed by an order that the Commissioners shall make provision to meet the existing demand. In this way, it is anticipated, considerable advance will be made in the systematic organization of primary education in municipal areas.

3. The adoption of compulsion and the provision of resources to meet consequential requirements, remain entirely permissive, but are not to be contemplated until the Commissioners have met the obligations imposed by that part of the Bill relating to voluntary education. Compulsion is to apply to all boys between the ages of six and ten, and to them only : whereas the obligations under Part II of the Bill have relation to both boys and girls between the ages of six and eleven.

4. Briefly the effect of the Bill will be to ensure proper provision in the first place for the primary education of all children between six and eleven desirous of attending school under the voluntary system, and subsequently if and when due provision has been made for their education under the voluntary system, for the primary education of all boys between six and ten under the compulsory system. Therefore, in any municipality in which the provisions of the Bill have been made operative in their entirety, there will be adequate provision for the education of (1) all boys between six and ten, and (2) all boys between ten and eleven who wish to attend primary schools, and (3) all girls between six and eleven who wish to attend primary schools. Obligations beyond these are not contemplated by the Bill, though it does not prevent municipalities from making provision for other classes of children.

5. A further important modification of the original Bill calls for notice in this connection. The original Bill contemplated an education cess only as a concomitant of compulsory and free education. This point of view we have found ourselves unable to accept, either as a matter of principle or as a matter of expediency. We consider that an education cess may reasonably be levied, at the instance of the Commissioners, as an additional resource for the provision of voluntary education, and we consider it inadvisable to impose upon Commissioners the obligation of foregoing at any stage the income derived from school fees. Such concessions as may be found necessary in this regard are amply provided for in clause 18 of the Bill as now presented.

6. Clause 2 (1).—We think it unnecessary to give any power to the Local Government to prescribe the days and time of attendance at a recognized primary school. It will be sufficient if the School Committee is empowered to prescribe them, subject to the rules and orders of the Education Department of the Government of Bengal.

7. Clause 2 (2).—This sub-clause has been omitted in view of the fact that new provisions have been introduced relating to the voluntary education of both boys and girls between the ages of six and eleven.

8. Clause 2 (6).—In our opinion it is advisable to leave the determination of the primary school curriculum to the Education Department of the Government of Bengal and not to specify the subjects in the Bill itself.

9. Clause 2C.—This new clause provides that the provisions relating to compulsory primary education shall not be in force until a notification declaring primary education to be compulsory has been issued by the Commissioners.

10. Clause 2D.—This new clause reproduces the provisions of clauses 3(2), 4, 5 and 6 as explained in the notes on those clauses. Clause 2D (1) makes it clear, however, that compulsory primary education shall be introduced only after due provision has been made for voluntary primary education.

11. Clause 3 (1).—This sub-clause has been omitted as the procedure for the introduction of compulsory primary education has been altered in order to make voluntary primary education precede compulsory primary education.

12. Clause 3 (2).—The provisions of this sub-clause have been reproduced in the new sub-clause 2D (3).

13. Clause 4.—The provisions of this clause have, with modifications necessitated by the introduction of provisions relating to voluntary primary education, been reproduced in the new sub-clause 2D (1).

14. Clause 5.—The provisions of this clause have been reproduced in the new sub-clause 2D (4).

15. Clause 6.—The first part of this clause has been reproduced in the new sub-clause 2D (1). The second part, namely, that relating to certificates or particulars to be furnished, has been omitted in view of the modified provisions in the Bill regarding the introduction of compulsory primary education.

16. Clause 7.—The latter part of this clause, which provides that the School Committee shall enforce the provisions of this proposed Act respecting the attendance at school and the employment of children, has been omitted in view of the obligation and liability imposed upon guardians and employers in clauses 8 to 15 as amended.

We consider it desirable that the School Committee should be a representative body. Accordingly, we have provided that one or more residents of the municipality other than a Commissioner shall be a member of the Committee.

17. Clause 9.—The provisions of this clause have been reproduced with modifications in sub-clause 8 (2).

We think that the distance of one mile referred to in sub-clause (a) should be measured not along the nearest road but by the shortest route from the residence of the boy.

We also think that the words "or other sufficient cause" in sub-clause (b) should be omitted as the clause is in its nature indicative not comprehensive.

18. Clause 11 (1).—This sub-clause has been recast and the limit of the fine that may be imposed on a first conviction has been increased to five rupees, as we consider that the proposed maximum fine of two rupees would be inadequate in some cases. Provision has also been made for a continuing fine in the case of a continuing offence.

19. Clause 12.—A proviso has been added to this clause in order to make it clear that the permission required under the clause will not be necessary when the time of employment is such that the boy is left free to attend a recognized primary school.

20. Clause 13 (2).—We have made several modifications in this sub-clause, partly with a view to bring it into fuller conformity with new sub-clause 8 (2).

We have also thought it necessary to make the employer liable in every case and so eliminate the possibility of evasion of the intentions of the Bill by the plea that the boy was employed by an agent or workman. The employer will always receive a preliminary warning and the defence of ignorance will not be open to him at any subsequent prosecution under sub-clause 13 (1).

21. Clause 14.—In view of the modifications made in clause 13, this clause becomes unnecessary and has been omitted.

22. Clause 16.—The provisions of this clause have been reproduced in the new clause 21A with the modification that the power to exempt any class or community from the operation of the proposed Act has been reserved to the Local Government alone as, in our opinion, the School Committee should not be empowered to make such decisions.

23. Clause 17(1).—The provisions of this sub-clause have been reproduced in the new sub-clause 21B(1). As it is proposed to provide for the introduction of voluntary primary education in municipal areas the sub-clause has been made applicable to voluntary and compulsory education.

24. Clause 17(2).—The provisions of this sub-clause have been reproduced in the new sub-clause 21B (2), but as it is desirable that the question of the imposition of the cess should be properly considered by the Commissioners as a body we have thought it necessary to provide that imposition should depend on a resolution to that effect passed by a majority of the total number of the Commissioners.

25. Clause 17 (3).—The provisions of this sub-clause have been reproduced in the new sub-clause 21B (1).

26. Clause 17 (4).—The provisions of this sub-clause have been reproduced in the new sub-clause 21B (3), but the words "on the recommendation of the Commissioners" have been omitted in order to give the Local Government the power to make general rules for all municipalities.

27. Clause 17 (5).—This sub-clause has been omitted as we do not think it advisable to constrain municipalities to make primary education free even where an education cess is imposed.

28. Clauses 19 and 20.—The provisions of these two clauses have been reproduced in the new clauses 21D and 21F, respectively.

29. Clause 21A.—This new clause reproduces the provisions of clause 16 with certain modifications explained in the note on that clause.

30. Clause 21B.—This new clause reproduces the provisions of clause 17 relating to an education cess with modifications explained in the notes on the sub-clauses of that clause.

We have inserted this new clause as a separate part so as to make its provisions applicable to both voluntary and compulsory primary education.

31. Clause 21C.—This new clause has been inserted in order to confer the rule-making power rendered necessary by the new sub-clauses 21D (1) and 21B (3).

32. Clauses 21D and 21F.—These two clauses reproduce, as has been stated before, the provisions of clauses 19 and 20.

33. Clause 21E.—To facilitate the performance of the duties of the School Committee we consider it advisable to make the officers and servants of the School Committee as well as the persons authorized by the School Committee under clause 15 public servants within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code.

34. We recommend that the Bill, as thus amended, be passed.

8. (1) In every area to which the provisions of this Part apply, it shall be the duty of the guardian of every boy, not being less than six or more than ten years of age, residing within that area to cause such boy to attend a recognized primary school unless, in the opinion of the School Committee, there is a reasonable excuse for his non-attendance.

(2) Any of the following circumstances shall be deemed to be a reasonable excuse within the meaning of this section:— [Cf. cl. 9.]

(a) that there is no recognized primary school within a distance of one mile, measured by the shortest route, from the residence of the boy which he can attend, and to which the guardian has no reasonable objection to send the boy;

(2) On the day fixed for the hearing of the application or on any subsequent day to which it may be adjourned, and after hearing the guardian or his authorized agent, if present, the Magistrate, if satisfied that the facts alleged in the application are true, may pass an order directing the guardian to cause such boy to attend a recognized primary school from a date to be specified in such order.

18. When primary education has been made compulsory in any Municipality, or any part thereof, if a guardian, who is required under the provisions of this Part to cause a boy to attend a recognized primary school, satisfies the School Committee that he is unable to pay the fees or any part of the fees ordinarily charged in such school, such boy shall be admitted to such school free of charge, or at such reduced fees as the School Committee may determine, for the period during which the guardian is required to cause the boy to attend a recognized primary school.

Power of Commissioners to make rules.

PART IV.

Education Cess.

Education cess.

21B. (1) If the existing resources of any Municipality including any grant from the Government, are not sufficient to cover the cost of primary education within the Municipality, the Commissioners may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, impose a tax, to be called the "education cess"; and [Cf. cl. 17.]

(Part V.—Supplemental.—Clauses 21C—21F.)

all amounts derived therefrom shall be devoted solely to the purposes of primary education, whether voluntary or compulsory, within the Municipality.

(2) An education cess shall not be imposed unless the Commissioners by a resolution, passed at a special general meeting convened for the purpose and in favour of which a majority of the total number of Commissioners have voted, determine to impose such cess.

(3) The education cess shall be levied in such manner as may be prescribed by rules made by the Local Government.

PART V.

Supplemental.

Power of Local Government to make rules

21C. (1) The Local Government may, after previous publication, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, the Local Government may make rules prescribing the manner in which—

(a) applications under section 2D, sub-section (1), shall be made; and (b) the education cess shall be levied.

(3) All rules made under this section shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Schools to be open to inspection

21D. All primary schools maintained by the Commissioners within a Municipality, or any part thereof, under the provisions of this Act shall be open to inspection by the inspecting officers of the Education Department of the Local Government and such other persons as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf. [Cf. cl 19]

Certain persons to be deemed public servants

21E. Every person authorized by the School Committee under section 15 and every officer and servant of the School Committee, shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Act XLV of 1860

Withdrawal of notification on default

21F. When, in the opinion of the Local Government, the Commissioners have made default in any of the requirements of Part III of this Act, the Local Government may, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, stating the grounds of such order, cancel any notification which has been issued under section 21D, sub-section (1). 2. As a general change of nomenclature for the new rural bodies to be created by the Bill, we have adopted the term "union board" instead of "village committee"; these authorities will in most cases control areas larger than a village in the ordinary sense, while the expression "union committee" would create confusion with similar bodies under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885. Similarly, the terms "union", "union bench" and "union court" have been adopted in place of "village", "village bench" and "village court".

3. The most important change contemplated by us is the elimination of the circle board. We accept the view that the functions to be exercised by such bodies would be inadequate to confer a status likely to attract energetic members or to give them a keen interest in their work. In fact the disadvantages which in the past have been attributed to local boards might be present in a still more marked degree. Again, if, as would seem to be inevitable, it is not found practicable at once to subdivide the area of whole subdivisions, or even thanas, into unions (by reason of the absence of uniformity in the stage of development of the different parts) confusion must result if local boards and circle boards exercise simultaneous jurisdiction, while the existing method of return of members of the district board by an electorate comprising the members of local boards would require complicated modification. After consideration of possible alternatives we have thought it best to disturb the existing system as little as possible, and to retain the local board as the immediate supervising agency for the union boards, although in some respects control (apart from that of the District Magistrate, etc.) would also vest in the district board. Such a course involves the minimum dislocation of the present structure, and these new responsibilities may stimulate local boards to greater activity.

4. Long title and first preamble.—These have been slightly altered so as more clearly to express the object of the measure.

5. Clause IA.—This clause reproduces in substance the original clause 73 to the extent of the repeal and revival of enactments. Its transposition here at the beginning of the Bill seems more appropriate than its inclusion later.

6. Clause 1B.—Similarly, this clause follows the original clause 73 in regard to the effect on certain enactments when the proposed Act comes into force or is withdrawn. It also saves existing assessments, rates and taxes imposed under the Village-chaukidari Act, 1870, and the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, in areas to which the Bill is extended until a new assessment is made. Corresponding provision is made in case of subsequent reversion to the old system.

7. Clause 2 (1), sub-clause (5).—The definition of "local authority" has been struck out as being unnecessary.

(2) Sub-clause (5a).—A definition of "local board" has been inserted in view of the retention of those bodies now proposed in the Bill.

(3) Sub-clause (6a).—A definition of "road", modelled on that given in the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, has been inserted for the purpose of clause 33 and other clauses.

(4) Under clause 103 the Codes of Criminal and Civil Procedure will not be applicable to proceedings before union benches and union courts, but it is still necessary to define in their sense certain terms used in the Bill. This has been effected by sub-clause (9).

8. Clause 3.—It has been provided that the Local Government in declaring local areas to be unions shall take into consideration the views of the district board.

9. Clause 4, sub-clause (4).—If an election of members has failed, an amendment has been inserted permitting a second election to be held before resort is had to nomination.

10. Clause 5 (1), proviso.—A proviso has been added in order to restrict the voting power in a joint undivided family to one member.

11. Clause 5 (2) provides that the qualifications of a member of a union board shall be the same as those for a voter.

12. Clause 5. Explanation.—It has been thought desirable to explain what is meant by the term "resident" in clause 5.

13. Clause 5 (1) (i).—It has been made clear that the reference to "cess" means road and public works cess.

14. Clause 6A.—Provision has been made for the election of a vice-president in case one is found to be required.

15. Clauses 7, 8, 9 and 10 have been struck out in view of the abandonment of circle boards.

16. Clause 11A reproduces part of the provisions of clause 13 of the original Bill, and for the sake of simplicity enables the District Magistrate to declare the date from which the board will be considered to have been duly constituted. Provision has also been made to prevent an interregnum between the expiry of office of the old board and the first meeting of its successor.

We have omitted sub-clause (2), making past members eligible for re-election or re-appointment at the end of their term of office, as being unnecessary; but we have provided by a new sub-clause (2) in clause 12 that in the case of removal from office under clause (1) or (3) of sub-clause (1) of that clause the disqualification shall be permanent.

17. Clause 12 (1).—In sub-clause (1) of this clause and also in clause 16 the disqualification has been restricted to conviction of a non-bailable offence.

(2) In sub-clause (5) of this clause and in sub-clauses (1) (iii) and (2) of clause 16 the power to remove a member, president or vice-president in the circumstances stated, has been made contingent on the assent of at least two-thirds of the total number of members of the board at a meeting.

18. Clause 13 has been reproduced in clauses 11A and 12.

19. Clause 14A reproduces clause 18 (1) of the Bill as introduced, and has been extended to include a vice-president.

20. Clause 15 (1).—We have provided that the resignation of the office by a president of a union board may be accepted by the chairman of the district board instead of by the District Magistrate.

21. Clause 15 (3).—Provision has been made for the resignation of a vice-president.

22. Clause 16 (2).—This sub-clause has been made applicable to a vice-president.

23. Clause 17.—In order to fill a casual vacancy in the office of vice-president we have inserted a new sub-clause (3).

24. Clause 21 has been struck out in view of the abandonment of circle boards.

25. Chapter IIA.—The provisions relative to dafadars and chaukidars have been grouped in a separate chapter.

26. Clause 22.—This clause has been transferred to Chapter III (powers and duties of union boards) as clause 28A.

27. Clause 22A.—This clause reproduces clause 24 of the Bill as introduced. Provision has been made for the views of the union board to be considered before a dafadar is appointed.

28. Clause 25.—The words "not being an offence within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code and" have been omitted since it is possible that even in such cases a fine under this clause might be an appropriate punishment.

29. Clause 26 (vii).—The provision as to the reporting of births and deaths has been simplified in form.

30. Clause 28A, sub-clause (1) (e).—This sub-clause has been amended in order to indicate that measures for the preservation of public health are an essential function of a union board.

Sub-clause (1) (ee) requires union boards to supply information desired by the District Magistrate, the district board or the local board.

Sub-clause (4).—This new sub-clause is based on section 69 of Bengal Act III of 1884 and section 100(4) of Bengal Act III of 1885.

31. Clause 29.—Several alterations have been made in the drafting of this clause, and it is now restricted to sanitation, conservancy and drainage. A provision has been inserted giving power to district boards to direct the taking of action under this clause.

A new sub-clause (dd) has been inserted in order to empower a union board to deal with land which owing to thick vegetation or dense undergrowth has become a nuisance.

A provision has also been inserted enabling union boards to establish burning-ghats and burial-grounds—see new sub-clause (ddd).

Sub-clause (4) provides for an appeal to the chairman of the district board against notices issued under sub-clause (2).

32. Clause 30 (3) (b).—Power has been given to the union board to determine what portion of the cost of cleansing land is to be recovered.

Sub-clause (4) provides for an appeal to the chairman of the local board against notices issued under sub-clause (2).

33. Clause 31 (1) (a) has been amplified in order to give power to prevent encroachments on an alignment by a wall or platform.

34. Clause 32.—As in clause 29, the district board has also been given power to direct the taking of action under this clause.

Sub-clause (aa).—A new sub-clause has been inserted with a view to enable union boards to establish and maintain water-works with the sanction of the Local Government.

Sub-clause (b).—This sub-clause has been expanded to include acquisition by gift.

Sub-clause (d), which made provision for dealing with insanitary tanks, ditches, etc., has been transposed and amalgamated with sub-clause (1) (d) of clause 29.

As there was some overlapping between sub-clauses (2) and (3), they have been re-arranged in a more concise and simple form.

Sub-clause (5) has also been redrafted in a more simple form without changing its meaning.

35. Clause 33 has been amended so as to recognize the existence of private roads and bridges.

In sub-clause (a) the word "roads" has been substituted for "village roads" (cf. definition in clause 2).

Sub-clause (dd) has been inserted in order to enable union boards to maintain and improve the public water-ways which in many parts of the province form the chief means of communication for a large part of the year.

An addition has been made to sub-clause (e) to enable union boards to provide for the lighting of such public places as ferry-ghats.

36. Clause 34 has been amended to make it clear that the functions of the union board do not extend to schools other than primary schools.

37. Clause 35.—The slight amendments made are consequential on the retention of local boards.

38. Clause 35A is new. There is at present no power to control the establishment of an offensive or dangerous trade or business outside municipal limits. The new clause is modelled on sections 261 and 273 (2) of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884.

39. Clause 36.—An additional safeguard to any abuse of the power of entry on private premises has been provided by inserting words which require that the written notice of such intention must be signed by the president or vice-president.

40. Clause 37 has been extended so as to provide for establishments in general. A safeguard against the appointment of staff which is not really necessary is provided by requiring that the prior sanction of the local board must be obtained.

41. Clause 38.—The word "wells" has been omitted because it is considered undesirable to assess the owners of wells as such. Other amendments are made for the sake of simplicity and clearness.

42. Clause 39.—Provision has been inserted for a maximum assessment of 84 rupees a year (cf. section 85 of the Bengal Municipal Act).

43. Clause 42.—Power to sign orders of distraint has been taken away from the secretary of the union board and conferred on the vice-president.

44. Clause 43.—Provision has been made for the realization by distraint of a penalty due under clause 42.

45. Clause 47.—In sub-clause (1) the fees leviable under clause 99 have been expressly included in, and fines imposed on chaukidars for dereliction of duty have been expressly excluded from, the sources from which the union fund is to be derived.

In sub-clause (2) reference is now made to clause 69 instead of clause 29, as the former authorizes the union board to pay reasonable compensation in all cases when any person suffers damage owing to the exercise by the union board of its powers under this Bill.

In the second proviso a slight amendment has been made to cover cases in which a private person makes a donation to a union board for a specific public purpose.

46. Clause 48.—It was thought that clause 48 would be more appropriately placed in the Chapter on general provisions, and it now appears as clause 59A.

47. Clauses 49 to 51.—These clauses originally formed the Chapter dealing with circle boards, and have now been omitted.

48. Clause 53.—It is provided that the decision of disputes between union boards under the same local board shall rest with the local board.

49. Clause 54 has been amended slightly. It still follows the lines of section 136 of Bengal Act III of 1885, but the fact has been recognized that the District Magistrate will never be a member of a union board.

50. Clause 55.—This clause has been omitted as unnecessary for a union board is constituted a local authority by the amendment of section 5 of Bengal Act III of 1885 proposed by us in Schedule I, so that it will come within the purview of section 137 of Bengal Act III of 1885.

51. Clause 55A.—A new clause has been introduced providing for the superintendence of union boards by local boards, except in matters relating to dafadars and chaukidars.

52. Clause 56.—In order further to ensure that the proceedings of union boards are in conformity with the law and rules, authority to exercise a general supervision over them has been extended to the chairman of the district board and the chairman of the local board.

53. Clause 57.—The power of inspection of union boards has been extended to the chairman of the district board, the chairman of the local board and to any other person authorized by them or by the Government, the Commissioner or the District Magistrate. Provision is thus made for control by non-officials as well as for inspection, when necessary, by expert officers deputed to make special inquiries.

54. Clause 59.—With the elimination of circle boards clause 59 becomes unnecessary, and has been omitted.

55. Clause 59A.—Provision is here made for realizing the pay of dafadars, chaukidars and staff, together with the cost of the equipment of the two former. The union authorities will no longer be personally responsible for the punctual payment of these sums, as is the case under section 45 of Bengal Act VI of 1870, but at the same time clause 48 of the Bill as introduced in Council does not afford an adequate alternative ; the union board may have no property which can be distrained, and no provision is made for cases in which there is no balance in the union fund. The clause has therefore been amended so as to empower the District Magistrate to appoint a person to collect from the rate-payers the sum necessary to defray arrears.

56. Clause 60.—Sub-clauses (2) and (3) of clause 60 appear to overlap, and the latter has therefore been omitted.

57. Clause 61.—As an alternative to the extreme measure of supersession the whole of a union board which proves grossly incompetent, provision has been made for the removal of the president alone. In such cases it is obviously desirable that the ex-president should at the same time cease to be a member of the board.

We have provided that before taking action under this clause the District Magistrate shall consider the views of the district board.

58. Clause 62 originally provided that in case of supersession a union board should be replaced by the circle board. As now amended the clause empowers the District Magistrate, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to select a suitable person to carry on the work of the union board during the period of its supersession.

59. Clause 64 is covered by section 126 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, as amended by this Bill, and has therefore been omitted.

60. Clauses 66 and 67.—As it is not proposed to establish circle boards, clauses 66 and 67 have been omitted.

61. Clause 68.—We have redrafted the first paragraph of this clause on the lines of section 17(b) of Bengal Act III of 1890.

62. Clause 70.—We have redrafted this clause on the lines of section 56 of Bengal Act III of 1884.

63. Clause 73 has been modified, divided into two clauses and transposed as clauses 1A and 1B to the beginning of the Bill, which is considered to be a more appropriate position for it.

64. Clause 74.—It is considered that in some cases it may be desirable to establish a union bench for a part only of a union, e.g., a large village or bazar.

It also appears desirable to make it clear that the union bench can only try offences committed within the limits of its jurisdiction.

It is further provided that membership of a union bench ceases on the expiry of the term of office as a member of the union board.

The words "and may at any time cancel any such notification" have been omitted, as they are rendered unnecessary by the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899.

65. Clause 75 has been amended to provide for cases in which the magisterial work is carried on by a Magistrate empowered under section 190 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

In proviso (a) the expression "transfer the complaint" is considered more correct than the expression "refer the complainant", and has been substituted for the latter.

66. Clause 76.—Provision is made for petitions to be received by any member of a union bench.

67. Clause 79.—In sub-clause (1) the words "under section 77 or section 78" have been omitted as unnecessary.

Sub-clause (2) appears to be superfluous and has been omitted.

Provision has been inserted in sub-clause (3) for cases where the accused refuses to obey the order to attend before the union bench.

Sub-clause (4) has been redrafted to make it clear that the union bench should ordinarily dispose of all cases on the first day of hearing. When that is impossible it is now provided that the accused should, pending the completion of the trial, be released on his own recognizance. It is considered that imprisonment pending trial is neither appropriate nor altogether practicable.

68. Clause 80.—Power has been given to the District Magistrate to deal with cases of serious miscarriage of justice throughout his jurisdiction.

69. Clause 81.—In sub-clause (2) it is provided that even when there are several accused the total compensation payable shall not exceed Rs. 25.

The second proviso has been omitted as unnecessary.

70. Clause 82 has been amended on the same lines as clause 74.

71. Clause 83.—To provide for the case of the court of small causes, the words "ordinary civil court" have been substituted for the words "court of the munsif", and corresponding amendments have been made in the succeeding clauses.

Clause 83 has been recast in such a way that it may be more readily understood, and the power to apply for the withdrawal of a suit from the union court has been restricted to any defendant.

72. Clause 84.—In view of the complications incidental to such cases, it is thought advisable to debar union courts from trying suits in which either of the parties is a minor.

73. Clause 85.—The words "other than a suit relating to immovable property" have been omitted, as the union court has no jurisdiction in any such suits.

Specific provision has been inserted to the effect that a union court may not try a suit unless the cause of action has arisen within the limits of its jurisdiction.

74. Clauses 89 and 90.—Words have been inserted in clause 89 to make it clear that the defendant need not necessarily file a written statement, but may make his defence orally. Similarly, under clause 90 the defendant has been permitted to apply orally or in writing for an order passed ex parte to be set aside.

75. Clause 92.—It is considered advisable to make express provision that Government, public officers as such, minors or lunatics may not be added as parties to a suit. If the addition of such parties becomes necessary the case must then go to the ordinary civil court for disposal.

76. Clause 94.—The expression "pass such decree" has been substituted for "make such decision", as being more appropriate.

Provision has been inserted to make the decree complete, including mention of fees and the expenses of witnesses, and of the persons by whom these various sums are payable.

77. Clause 96.—In the case of joint parties to a suit it is considered that any individual party should have the right of applying for a re-trial. The clause has been amended accordingly.

78. Clause 97.—For the word "heirs" the words "legal representatives" have been substituted, and it has been made clear that in no event can the union court try a suit in which any of the parties is a minor.

79. Clause 98.—It is considered inequitable that in the case of a person being wrongfully sued, he should be required to pay in the court of the munsif the court-fees which would, but for the establishment of a union court, have been payable by the plaintiff. The clause has accordingly been omitted.

80. Clause 99.—The word "fees" has been substituted for the word "costs" as being more appropriate.

81. Clause 100.—The words "such costs as the court may consider reasonable" have been substituted for the words "his costs as between pleader and client", as there is no prescribed scale for the latter.

82. Clause 101.—Since in all suits triable by a union court a definite sum of money or specific movable property is involved it is considered unnecessary to retain clause 101.

83. Clause 102.—Provision has been inserted to enable the decree-holder to recover from the judgment-debtor any fee paid under clause 99.

84. Clause 102A.—The case of partial satisfaction of a decree has been considered, and it is thought that the amount realized should be distributed rateably between the decree-holder and the union fund if realization is effected by the union court, and between the decree-holder and Government if realization is effected by the munsif. A clause to this effect has been inserted as clause 102A.

85. Clause 104.—It has been provided that in the absence of the president of the union board, the union bench or court should elect its own president.

86. Clause 104A.—It is thought appropriate to transpose clause 112 to the Chapter dealing with general provisions relating to union benches and courts. It has accordingly been reproduced as clause 104A.

The explanation added to the clause is in conformity with section 556 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

87. Clause 105.—In regard to sub-clause (3) of clause 105 there is considerable opinion that 15 miles is too far to require a witness to travel without being reimbursed his expenses. The sub-clause has been amended to provide for payment of expenses to witnesses who reside outside the union.

For the sake of simplicity, sub-clauses (4) and (5) have been combined.

88. Clause 107.—Slight amendments have been made to clause 107. These merely recognize the facts that under clause 106 (2) women have already been exempted from appearing as defendants unless they do so voluntarily, and that any relative has already been permitted to represent them before a union court.

89. Clause 108.—In consequence of the amendment made in clause 99, the word "fees" has been substituted for the word "costs" in clause 108, and in consequence of the provisions now inserted in clause 79 (4) for the taking of bonds from accused persons pending the completion of their trial, provision has been made for the recovery of the amount of forfeited bonds.

90. Clause 110.—Since the operation of the Court-fees Act, 1870, is barred under clause 103, clause 110(1) is unnecessary and has been omitted. Provision is, however, retained under clause 111 (2) (u) for the making of rules regarding the furnishing of copies of documents and the fees to be levied thereon.

91. Clause 111.—Sub-clause (5) has been amalgamated with sub-clause (1).

The portion of sub-clause (2) (a) dealing with the qualifications and disqualifications of voters, candidates and members has been omitted as complete provision regarding these matters is contained in the body of the Bill.

In sub-clause (2) (d) provision has been inserted for rules regarding the powers that may be exercised by the vice-president of a union board ; but it is considered unnecessary to mention rules regarding powers exercisable by sub-committees or members.

Portions of sub-clauses (e) and (m) and the whole of sub-clauses (f) and (p) have been omitted as unnecessary.

The concluding words of sub-clause (2) (j), namely :—" and defining and prohibiting public nuisances within the village " and sub-clause (4) have been omitted because it is considered that sufficient powers for dealing with public nuisances have been provided under clauses 29 and 30 of the Bill and under section 290 and other sections of the Indian Penal Code.

As it is not considered desirable to empower union benches to detain persons apprehended under clause 79, and as union boards cannot issue warrants, all mention of such powers has been omitted from sub-clause (r).

92. Clause 114.—As it is not now proposed to establish circle boards there is no necessity to provide for breaches of by-laws ; consequently clause 114 has been omitted.

93. Schedule I (original Schedule III).—As some portions of the Village-chaukidari Act are being retained it is considered advisable to retain also the preamble, and section 79 which gives the name of the Act.

In view of the opinion that circle boards should not be established and that local boards should be retained, several changes have become necessary in regard to the sections of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act required to be amended or repealed. The following are the most important:—

Following the Bengal General Clauses Act the definition of local authority has been made to include union boards, and the remaining sections of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act have been so amended that this definition remains constant throughout.

It has been provided by amending section 6 that wherever a union board is established, a local board must also be established unless one already exists with authority over that area.

It is desirable that where union boards are established, the electorate for the local boards should correspond with the electorate for the union boards. Provision to this effect has been made by amending section 9. The qualifications required of candidates have also been made the same for local boards as for union boards ; this has been effected by the amended sub-section (2) of section 9 and by the repeal of section 13.

The omission of union committees from sections 18 and 18A is consequential on the abolition of those bodies in areas to which the proposed Act will apply. For the same reason sections 36 to 44, 56 to 58, 104 to 119 and 133 have been repealed, and why sub-clause (d) of clause Fifthly of section 53, and sections 130, 131, 132, 138, 142 and 146 have been amended.

94. Schedule II (original Schedule I).—It is considered desirable to add certain specified forms of crime to the offences which a chaukidar is required to report and for which he is authorized to arrest, and also to include conspiracies to commit any of the specified substantive offences.

95. Schedule III (original Schedule II).—Item 2 has been omitted in consequence of the alteration made in clause 15(1). Item 3 has been omitted in consequence of the amendment made in clause 17 (1). Item 7 has been omitted because it is expedient that the District Magistrate should exercise sole control over the district chaukidari reward fund.

The examination and revision of assessments of the union rate made by union boards will in many instances be performed by the circle officer. It is therefore considered necessary to insert the name of the circle officer in item 8. A similar amendment has been made in item 10, because it will be part of the circle officer's duties to see that union boards act in conformity with the law and rules thereunder.

96. Schedule IV.—We have made several additions to the offences triable by union boards and have also removed from the Schedule some of the offences previously made so triable.

97. We recommend that the Bill, as thus amended, be passed.

CALCUTTA ;
The 18th January, 1919.

* This member signed subject to his Note of Dissent appended.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY.

1. Clause 5.—In sub-clause (1) for the word "resident" the words "having a place of residence" should be substituted; and in sub-clause (2) before the words "shall be . . . . . ", the words "and is resident within the union" should be inserted.

My intention is to give the franchise to persons who may not "ordinarily reside" within the limits of the union, but are otherwise qualified to vote and have a stake in the union area. Membership of union boards may, however, be limited to residents, as defined in the explanation to this clause.

2. Clause 26.—I do not find anything either in clause 26, or in part II, chapter VII, which makes it obligatory on dafadars and chaukidars to obey the orders of the union court or bench. Clause 26, sub-clause (1) (ix) lays down that the chaukidar "shall obey the orders of the union board" in regard to certain matters. But nothing is said about the union bench and court.

3. Clause 62.—Sub-clauses (1) (b) and (1) (c) should be recast on the lines of the corresponding provisions of the Bill as originally introduced. Sub-clause (1) (b) of the said Bill laid down that "all the powers and duties of the village committee ..... shall, until such committee ..... is reconstituted, be exercised and performed by the circle board ....., and all property vested in the village committee.....shall, during the period of such supersession, be vested in the said circle board .....". I think that, in the case of supersession of any union board, the local board should step in and take up the duties of the union board, except in matters relating to dafadars and chaukidars which are excluded from the jurisdiction of the local board under clause 55A. All matters relating to dafadars and chaukidars may, in such a case, be left to the charge of such person or persons as the District Magistrate may direct.

4. Clause 74.—Under this clause the Local Government may appoint all or any of the members of a union board to be a union bench. I am clearly of opinion that in no case should a union bench be composed of less than three members. Clause 104 seems to assume that the union bench and the union court will be composed of more than one member; but three should be laid down in clause 74 as the minimum number of members to constitute a union bench.

5. Clause 82.—The union court should also consist of at least three members.

6. Clause 111.—Power should be provided for under this clause to make rules determining, according to some standard, a minimum of the contributions or assignments to be made to the union board by Government and the district board, respectively. Clause 38(a), as I read it, leaves the Local Government free either to make any such contribution or not. Again, clause 46 only enables the district board to "make to the union board such grants-in-aid.....as they may think fit". Undue stress seems to have been laid on local taxation, against the definite recommendations made by the Decentralization Commission in this connection (see the report of the Commission, paragraph 718). In paragraph 719 of their report, the Commission recommended that a panchayat's revenue should be derived from the following sources :—

(i) assignment to it of a portion of the land cess;
(ii) special grants by sub-district boards or Collectors;
(iii) receipts from village cattle-pounds or markets; and
(iv) small fees on civil suits filed before it.

My suggestion is that an assignment should be made to the union boards of at least half the land cesses levied within the union area, besides any other grants from the district fund and some minimum contribution by the Local Government. But, if there is any objection to making rigid statutory provisions in this behalf, power should be taken under clause 111 to make rules to secure the object.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE RAI SRI NATH RAY BAHADUR.

1. Clause 5.—In my opinion any male person who is otherwise qualified, and has a permanent place of residence in the union where he occasionally resides, should be entitled to vote at the election of members (though he may not be entitled to be a member) to the union board. Such a person has a real practical connection with the union. Besides, he contributes to the union fund by paying taxes levied within the union. It will not be just to compel a person to pay taxes and at the same time to deprive him of taking any part in the administration of these taxes in the union where he has got a permanent house and other interests. The restriction of franchise to residence in the union for more than seven months in the year is thus objectionable on these grounds. It will have the effect of keeping out many leading and capable men of the union from the electoral roll to the detriment of the public interest.

2. Clause 22A.—The dafadar of the union should also be nominated by the union board as in the case of the chaukidar. The control over the rural police should rest primarily with the union board. Otherwise, the latter will be placed at a great disadvantage in the administration of the union affairs entrusted to it. The dafadar is practically the head chaukidar. There is no reason for making a different provision for his appointment.

3. Clause 38.—The success of village self-government depends principally on its finances. In this matter the recommendation of the Decentralization Commission should be carefully considered. According to the Commission the revenue of a panchayat (union board) should be derived from the following sources :—

(a) the assignment of a portion of the land cess levied for local board purposes in the union ;

(b) special grants, for particular objects of local improvement, to be made by sub-district boards or Collectors ;

(c) the receipts from cattle-pounds or markets within the union which may be entrusted to its management ; and

(d) small fees in civil suits filed before it.

The Commission was against any new form of taxation. I think the above sources should be supplemented by local taxation for which a maximum upon any person in any one year should be fixed. In my opinion the amount should be forty-two rupees, instead of eighty-four. If the union board depends solely upon local taxation it will naturally be unpopular, resulting in its total failure. Villages are generally poor and the people who are already heavily taxed in various ways will feel and resent it keenly. The union board will rarely dare go against the public opinion of the village.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill gives effect to the recommendations contained in Chapter XVII of the Report of the Rowlatt Committee in so far as they relate to Punitive Measures (Permanent). Further clause 3 adds to the Criminal Procedure Code a new section 196-B as drafted by the Committee appointed to consider and revise the Criminal Procedure Code (Amendment) Bill.

The relevant portions of the Report of the Rowlatt Committee are printed below :—

(a) * * * * *

We think, however, that no harm can be done by amending section 343 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (which prohibits promises or threats to induce an accused person to disclose or withhold any matter) so as to make it clear that there is no prohibition of a promise, whether to an accused or any other person, of protection against injury caused by the criminal acts of others. We do not think that this is really any alteration of the section at all. Such a promise as is referred to is only an assurance that he will get what he would be entitled to in any case. If it is an alteration, however, its advisability is too obvious for discussion.

(b) As regards changes specially relating to seditious crime, we recommend three permanent additions to the law.

In the first place we think that a permanent enactment on the lines of Rule 25 A under the Defence of India Act is required. That rule provides for the punishment of persons having prohibited documents (which may have to be defined anew) in their possession or control with (as we read the effect of the words used) intent to publish or circulate them. In its present form, however, the substance of the offence is confounded with the presumptive evidence of it. The drafting should, in our judgment, be recast, and the penalty seems too high for times of peace, seeing that the offence is merely possession with an intent not yet acted upon.

We also recommend that the principle of section 565 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (which provides for an order requiring notification of residence after release in the cases of persons convicted a second time for certain offences) should be extended to all persons convicted of offences under Chapter VI of the Penal Code (offences against the State) whether previously convicted or not. Such persons might be ordered to give security for a period not exceeding two years for good behaviour so far as offences under Chapter VI are concerned, and in default be directed to notify their residence to Government, who should have power to restrict their movements for the period of two years after their release and prohibit them from addressing public meetings,—the term "public meetings" including in its scope political subjects as in section 4 of the Prevention of Seditious Meetings Act of 1907.

Lastly we think that in all cases where there is a question of seditious intent, evidence of previous conviction for seditious crime or association (of an incriminating kind of course) with persons so convicted should be admissible upon written notice to the accused with such particulars and at such a time before the evidence is given as might be fair. What we have called seditious crime would of course have to be accurately defined." *

"186. * * * * * *

In all these cases the District Magistrate should be empowered to order investigation. We are informed that this will be the result of clause 37 of the Amendment to the Criminal Procedure Code Bill now under consideration. If the above mentioned amendment is not enacted, machinery ought, we think, to be devised for giving such power by special order or otherwise in the cases with which we are immediately concerned. It has been suggested to us that the power should extend to Superintendents or even Inspectors of Police, but we cannot endorse this."

BILL No. 2 OF 1919.

A Bill to make provision in special circumstances to supplement the ordinary criminal law, and for the exercise of emergency powers by Government.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision that, in special circumstances, the ordinary criminal law should be supplemented and emergency powers should be exercisable by the Government;

And whereas the previous approval of the Secretary of State in Council has been accorded to the making of this law; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Criminal Law (Emergency Powers) Act, 191 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

"Chief Justice" means the Judge of highest rank in a High Court;

"The Code" means the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898;

"High Court" means the highest Court of criminal appeal or revision for any local area;

"Offence against the State" means any offence under Chapter VI of the Indian Penal Code, and any attempt or conspiracy to commit, or any abetment of, any such offence; and

(2) All words and expressions used in this Act and defined in the Code, and not hereinbefore defined, shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them in the Code.

PART I.

Condition of application of Part I.

3. If the Governor General in Council is satisfied that scheduled offences are prevalent in the whole or any part of British India, and that it is expedient in the interests of the public safety to provide for the speedy trial of such offences, he may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make a declaration to that effect, and thereupon the provisions of this Part shall come into force in the area specified in the notification.

Initiation of proceedings.

4. (1) Where the Local Government is of opinion that the trial of any person accused of a scheduled offence should be held in accordance with the provisions of this Part, it may order any officer of Government to prefer a written information to the Chief Justice against such person.

(2) No order under sub-section (1) shall be made in respect of, or be deemed to include, any person who has been committed under the Code for trial before a High Court, but, save as aforesaid, an order under that sub-section may be made in respect of any scheduled offence whether such offence was committed before or after the issue of the notification under section 3.

(3) The information shall state the offence charged and so far as known the name, place of residence, and occupation of the accused, and the time and place when and where the offence is alleged to have been committed and such other facts within the knowledge of the prosecution as shall be reasonably sufficient to enable the accused to meet the accusation.

(4) The Chief Justice may by order require any information to be amended so as to supply further particulars of the offence charged to the accused, and shall direct a copy of the information or the amended information, as the case may be, to be served upon the accused in such manner as the Chief Justice may direct.

Constitution of Court

5. Upon such service being effected, and on application duly made to him, the Chief Justice shall nominate three of the High Court Judges (hereinafter referred to as the Court) for the trial of the information and shall fix a date for the commencement of the trial :

Provided that, when the total number of Judges of the High Court does not exceed three, the Chief Justice shall nominate not more than two such Judges, and shall complete the Court by the nomination of one or, if necessary, two persons of either of the following classes, namely :—

(a) persons who have served as permanent Judges of the High Court; or

(b) with the consent of the Chief Justice of another High Court, persons who are Judges of that High Court.

Place of sitting.

6. The Court may sit for the whole or any part of a trial at such place or places in the province as it may consider desirable :

Provided that the Governor General in Council, if he is satisfied that such a course is expedient in the interests of justice, may, by notification in the Gazette of India, direct that the Court shall sit for the whole or any part of a trial at such place or places as he may specify in the notification.

Application of Code of Criminal Procedure subject to this Part.

7. The provisions of the Code shall apply to proceedings under this Part, in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions therein contained, and such proceedings shall be deemed to be proceedings under the Code, and the Court shall have all the powers conferred by the Code on a Court of Session exercising original jurisdiction.

Trial.

8. The trial shall be commenced by the reading of the information, and thereafter the Court shall, subject to the provisions of this Part, in trying the accused, follow the procedure prescribed by the Code for the trial of warrant cases by Magistrates.

Adjournment after charge.

9. If a charge is framed, the accused shall be entitled to ask for an adjournment for ten days, or any less period that he may specify, and the Court shall comply with his request.

Record of evidence.

10. The Court shall be required to make a memorandum only of the substance of the evidence of each witness examined and, subject to the adjournment provided for by section 9, shall not be bound to adjourn any trial for any purpose, unless such adjournment is in its opinion necessary in the interests of justice.

Prohibition or restriction of publication of reports of trial.

11. The Court, if it is of opinion that such a course is necessary in the public interest or for the protection of a witness, may prohibit or restrict in such way as it may direct the publication or disclosure of its proceedings or any part of its proceedings.

Examination of accused.

12. (1) No questions shall be put by the Court to the accused in the course of a trial under this Part until the close of the case for the prosecution. Thereafter, and before the accused enters on his defence, the Court shall call upon him to state whether he intends to give evidence on oath or not, and shall at the same time inform him that if he does so, he will be liable to cross-examination. Unless the accused then states that he intends to give evidence on oath, the Court may at any time thereafter question the accused generally on the case in accordance with the provisions of section 342 of the Code.

(2) If when so called upon, the accused states that he intends to give evidence on oath, the Court shall not at any subsequent stage put any question to him :

Provided that if the accused does not so give evidence, then, after the witnesses for the defence have been examined, the Court may question the accused generally on the case in accordance with the provisions of the said section.

(3) If the accused gives evidence on oath, the following rules shall be observed in regard to his cross-examination, namely :—

(a) He may be asked any question in cross-examination notwithstanding that it would tend to criminate him as to the offence charged.

(b) He shall not be asked, and if asked shall not be required to answer, any question tending to show that he has committed or been convicted of, or has been charged with, any offence other than that with which he is then charged, or has a bad character, unless—

(i) proof that he has committed or been convicted of such other offence is admissible evidence to show that he is guilty of the offence with which he is then charged, or

(ii) witnesses for the prosecution have been cross-examined with a view to establish his own good character, or he has given evidence of his good character, or the nature or the conduct of the defence is such as to involve imputations on the character of the witnesses for the prosecution, or

(iii) he has given evidence against any other person charged with the same offence.

Right of reply.

13. If the accused or any one of the accused calls and examines any witness, the right of final reply shall lie with the prosecution, but in all other cases with the accused :

Provided that the examination of an accused as a witness shall not of itself confer the right of final reply on the prosecution.

Difference of opinion.

14. In the event of any difference of opinion between the members of the Court, the opinion of the majority shall prevail.

15. If in any trial under this Part it is proved that the accused has committed any offence, whether a scheduled offence or not, the Court may convict the accused of that offence although he was not charged with it.

Conviction for non-scheduled offence.

16. The Court may pass upon any person convicted by it any sentence authorised by law for the punishment of the offence of which such person is convicted, and no order of confirmation shall be necessary in the case of any sentence passed by it.

Sentence.

17. The judgment of the Court shall be final and conclusive and, notwithstanding the provisions of the Code or of any other law for the time being in force, or of anything having the force of law by whatsoever authority made or done, there shall be no appeal from any order or sentence of the Court, and no High Court shall have authority to revise any such order or sentence or to transfer any case from such Court, or to make any order under section 491 of the Code or have any jurisdiction of any kind in respect of any proceedings under this Part :

Exclusion of interference of other criminal Courts.

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the powers of the Governor General in Council or of the Local Government to make orders under section 401 or 402 of the Code in respect of any person sentenced by the Court.

18. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, where—

Special rules of evidence.

(a) the statement of any person has been recorded by a Magistrate, and such statement has been read over and explained to the person making it and has been signed by him, or

(b) the statement of any person has been recorded by the Court, but such person has not been cross-examined, such statement may be admitted in evidence by the Court if the person making the same is dead or cannot be found or is incapable of giving evidence, and the Court is of opinion that such death, disappearance or incapacity has been caused in the interests of the accused.

(2) Depositions recorded under section 512 of the Code may, in the circumstances specified in that section, be given in evidence at the trial under this Part of an accused.

19. The Chief Justice may from time to time make rules providing for—

Power to make rules.

(1) the appointment and powers of a President of the Court, and the procedure to be adopted in the event of any Judge of the Court being prevented from attending throughout the trial of an accused ; and

(2) any matters which appear to him necessary for carrying into effect or supplementing the provisions of this Part preliminary or ancillary to trials.

PART II.

20. If the Governor General in Council is satisfied that movements which are, in his opinion, likely to lead to the commission of offences against the State are being extensively promoted in the whole or any part of British India, he may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make a declaration to that effect, and thereupon the provisions of this Part shall come into force in the area specified in the notification.

Condition of application of Part II.

21. (1) Where, in the opinion of the Local Government, there are reasonable grounds for believing that any person is or has been actively concerned in such area in any movement of the nature referred to in section 20, the Local Government may, by order in writing containing a declaration to that effect, give all or any of the following directions, namely : that such person—

(c) shall remain or reside in any area in British India so specified ;

provided that, if the area so specified is outside the province, the concurrence of the Local Government of that area to the making of the order shall first have been obtained ;

(d) shall abstain from any act so specified which, in the opinion of the Local Government, is calculated to disturb the public peace or is prejudicial to the public safety ; and

(e) shall report himself to the police at such periods as may be so specified.

(2) Any order under clauses (b) to (e) may also be made to take effect upon default by the person concerned in complying with an order under clause (a).

22. An order made under section 21 shall be served on the person in respect of whom it is made in the manner provided in the Code for service of summons, and upon such service such person shall be deemed to have due notice thereof.

(1) When the Local Government makes an order under section 21, such Government shall, as soon as may be, forward to the investigating authority to be constituted under this Act a concise statement in writing setting forth plainly the grounds on which the Government considered it necessary that the order should be made, and shall lay before the investigating authority all material facts and circumstances in its possession in support of its action.

(2) The investigating authority shall then hold an inquiry in camera for the purpose of ascertaining what, in its opinion, having regard to the facts and circumstances adduced by the Government, appears against the person in respect of whom the order has been made. Such authority shall in every case allow the person in question a reasonable opportunity of appearing before it at some stage in its proceedings and shall, if he so appears, explain to him the nature of the charge made against him and shall hear any explanation he may have to offer, and may make such further investigation (if any) as appears to such authority to be relevant and reasonable :

Provided that the investigating authority shall not disclose to the person whose case is before it any fact the communication of which might endanger the public safety or the safety of any individual :

(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), the inquiry shall be conducted in such manner as the investigating authority considers best suited to elicit the facts of the case; and in making the inquiry, such authority shall not be bound to observe the rules of the law of evidence.

(4) On the completion of the inquiry, the investigating authority shall report in writing to the Local Government the conclusions at which it has arrived.

(5) If the investigating authority has not completed the inquiry within the period for which the duration of the order is limited by section 24, such authority may recommend to the Local Government that the period of duration of the order shall be extended for such period as it may consider necessary, and on such a recommendation, the Local Government may extend the duration of the order accordingly.

(3) No order made under sub-section (2) shall continue in force for more than one year from the date on which it was made, but on its expiry may be renewed by the Local Government for a further period not exceeding one year :

Provided that any order so made or renewed may at any time be discharged, or may be altered by the substitution of any other order authorised by section 21, and in that case no further reference to the investigating authority shall be necessary.

29. (1) The Local Government shall appoint one or more investigating authorities for the purposes of this Part.

(2) Every investigating authority shall be appointed by order in writing, and shall consist of three persons, of whom one shall be a person having held judicial office not inferior to that of a District and Sessions Judge, and one shall be a person not in the service of the Crown in India.

(3) The Local Government may by like order appoint persons to fill casual vacancies occurring by reason of death, resignation of office or otherwise on any investigating authority, but in so doing shall observe the provisions of sub-section (2).

Visiting Committees.

30. The Local Government shall by order in writing appoint such persons as it thinks fit to be Visiting Committees for the purposes of this Part, and shall by rules prescribe the functions which these Committees shall exercise :

Provided that, in making such rules, provision shall be made for periodical visits to persons under restraint under the provisions of this Part :

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In December, 1917, the Governor General in Council, with the approval of the Secretary of State, appointed a Committee—

(1) to investigate and report on the nature and extent of the criminal conspiracies connected with the revolutionary movement in India ;

(2) to examine and consider the difficulties that have arisen in dealing with such conspiracies, and to advise as to the legislation, if any, necessary to enable Government to deal effectively with them.

The Committee advisedly contained a strong judicial element, and was presided over by Sir Sidney Rowlatt, K.C.S.I., a judge of the King's Bench Division of His Majesty's High Court of Justice. This Committee submitted its report on the 15th April, 1918. The report was unanimous, and the Government of India have decided to introduce Bills to give effect to the recommendations of the Committee.

The present Bill gives effect to the recommendations contained in Chapter XVII of the Report in so far as they relate to Emergency measures (Punitive), Emergency measures (Preventive) and provision for existing danger. It is divided into five parts. Under the first three parts (i) the punitive measures, (ii) preventive measures of a mild character, (iii) preventive measures of a more stringent type, can each in turn be called into operation as recommended in paragraph 180 of the Report. Part IV makes provision for existing danger on the lines suggested in paragraph 196 of the Report, and Part V deals with certain miscellaneous matters.

The object has been to follow the recommendations of the Committee as closely as possible, and for facility of reference relevant extracts from the report are printed below :—

"180. Further, as we have said, the powers we suggest will be both Punitive and Preventive and the latter will be of two degrees varying in stringency. The scheme ought to be capable of being called into operation in compartments and it is worth considering whether the necessary notifications might not be required to declare a higher degree of public danger to justify the use of some powers than of others. We venture to lay some stress on the desirability from every point of view of the Government being able to take mild measures early. This is hampered if they are obliged, in order to take mild measures, to declare a state of affairs of great seriousness. On the other hand, they should not have authority to assume power to take stringent measures without pledging themselves to the declaration of a crisis of proportionate gravity. We have already intimated that we do not feel called upon to draft any form of notification but, to illustrate our suggestion of progressive notifications, if we may use that phrase, it might be sufficient, in order to call our punitive measures into force, to declare that seditious offences are prevalent and that it is expedient to provide for their speedy trial under the provisions of the Act, while for the invocation of the mild form of preventive measures it might be obligatory to declare that seditious movements were being extensively promoted, and for the more stringent preventive measures, that seditious outrage was occurring to a degree endangering public safety—or some such formulæ."

Emergency powers of different degrees.

"The notifications should of course be capable of application to particular provinces of smaller areas."

"181. Coming now to the measures themselves, we are of opinion that provision should be made for the trial of seditious crime by Benches of three Judges without juries or assessors and without preliminary commitment proceedings or appeal. In short, the procedure we recommend should follow the lines laid down in sections 5—9 inclusive of the Defence of India Act It should be made clear that section 512 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (relating to the giving in evidence under certain circumstances of depositions taken in the absence of an absconding accused) applies to these trials, it having we understand, been questioned whether section 7 of the Defence of India Act has that effect."

Emergency provisions for trials.

"We think it necessary to exclude juries and assessors mainly because of the terrorism to which they are liable. But terrorism apart, we do not think they can be relied upon in this class of case They are too much inclined to be affected by public discussion We could give instances which have come before us, where we think there have been miscarriages of justice owing to the causes above mentioned We may further point out that the trial of such cases without jury or assessors was introduced by the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908."

"As regards the procedure and the absence of right of appeal, we think it essential that the delay involved in commitment proceedings and appeal be avoided. It is of the utmost importance that punishment or acquittal should be speedy both in order to secure the moral effect which punishment should produce and also to prevent the prolongation of the excitement which the proceedings may set up. Furthermore, the delays involved by commitment proceedings and the double examination of witnesses increase the chance of the witnesses being intimidated, add to the hardships involved in their attendance with the consequence of making them less ready to come forward, and also afford time for them to forget the facts."

"We think, however, that there is one important amendment to be made in the procedure. Under the temporary scheme now in operation charges are formulated after the evidence for the prosecution has been closed. In our opinion some expedient must be found for defining the issues and communicating them to the accused a reasonable time before he has to meet or rebut them. We do not apprehend how an accused can deal relevantly either in cross-examination or by preparation of evidence with a case not formulated."

"To meet this difficulty we suggest some such scheme as the following. It is a compromise between having no preliminary proceedings and the ordinary full commitment proceedings. We are told that some Special Tribunals have proceeded to some extent on these lines with satisfactory results. It seems quite fair to the accused :—

(a) Commitment proceedings to be abolished in these cases.

(b) Proceedings to start with a detailed written complaint to be drawn up by the Government Prosecutor setting out full particulars of what is intended to be proved against each accused.

(c) The prosecution witnesses to be first examined in chief, but the accused not to be called upon to cross-examine at this stage.

(d) The charge to be framed with regard to such of the accused against whom there is prima facie evidence.

(e) The case should be adjourned and the Court should fix the period of adjournment suitable to each case, but such period should not be less than ten days.

(f) The accused to remain in the "custody of the Court" as opposed to the "custody of the police," or in other words, the Superintendent of the Jail should be under the directions of the Court so far as the accused are concerned. This does not indicate any real change, but perhaps an insertion of a provision of this nature will have the effect of silencing much mischievous criticism.

(g) The police papers will of course be placed before the Court. The Court after going through the papers may, if it thinks right, allow copies of some of these papers to the accused. Of course in this matter the Court will have absolute discretion, and the Court may refuse to allow copies of any of the police papers to the accused.

(h) At the expiry of the period of adjournment the cross-examination of the witnesses and the rest of the trial will proceed."

"182. While, however, we recommend in substance the procedure established under the Defence of India Act, we think the constitution of the tribunals as provided by these Acts should be altered. It seems to us inadvisable that these tribunals should to any extent be composed of persons not already members of the judiciary but selected by the executive for the purpose of the specific case. Nothing that we have seen suggests that the special tribunals hitherto appointed have been unfair towards the accused, but we think the objections in principle cannot be overlooked. Moreover, as the right of appeal is taken away, the tribunals should be of the highest strength and authority. They should be composed of High Court or Chief Court Judges selected by the head of the Court. It is true that this might mean a grave demand upon these Benches. But, after all, there is no judicial work so important as that with which we are dealing or so imperatively calling for a tribunal of the highest authority. Substitutes can be appointed for the Judges called away, and if there is no power it can be obtained. Substitutes, however, ought not to try these cases."

Composition of Courts.

"183. It has been brought to our attention that the bringing of witnesses to Calcutta or other seats of a High or Chief Court may be attended with inconvenience and may be a source of alarm and confusion to country witnesses. This must arise just as much if the witnesses are brought to such city to attend a special tribunal as at present constituted. If, on the other hand, the three gentlemen composing such tribunal can sit elsewhere than in such city, it seems to us that the three Judges can do so."

Place of trial.

"184. A question to which we have given much consideration is whether the accused should be entitled to give evidence on his own behalf in these cases, subject to the consequences now provided by the law of England. This has been found to afford valuable protection to an innocent prisoner, while exposing sham defences and unfounded suggestions."

Testimony of accused.

"The principle upon which an accused person cannot at present give evidence is that he is interested and interested persons were incompetent as witnesses by the Common Law in all cases, civil as well as criminal. This incompetency was gradually removed in England until the only remnant of the original rule was the case of a person under criminal trial. The incompetency in this case also was gradually removed as regards one crime after another until in 1898 * it was swept away in all cases by an Act of general application. The change was really the concession of a new facility to prisoners, though doubtless it had its inconveniences for persons really guilty. It was hedged about with important safeguards from the prisoner's point of view of which the following are the most notable :—

*61 and 62 Vict., c. 36.

(a) he cannot be called except with his own consent;

(b) if called, he cannot be asked questions as to his character, including previous convictions, unless either—

(i) the facts put would be evidence against him in chief, independently of the Act, as showing design or the like, or

(ii) he has given evidence of his own good character or the character of witnesses for the prosecution has been attacked on his behalf.

In other words, there is a special code limiting his examination, and if the principle were introduced in India, the application of sections inconsistent with it, such as section 165 of the Indian Evidence Act, would have to be excluded."

"This new principle, at first much mistrusted, has been found to work well in England; and in India where, as is so frequently the case, the grave issue arises whether a confession has been improperly extorted, it would seem much more conducive to the discovery of the truth that the accused should be entitled to depose on oath to what has occurred subject to cross-examination than that it should be left to suggestion. And so also as to other issues."

"No doubt only an experienced Court should try cases under these conditions in order to make sure that an ignorant prisoner does not misunderstand his position, and is not unfairly dealt with. This safeguard is ensured when the cases come before three Judges of the highest rank, and upon the whole we think the provision should be introduced. If it were a question of its general application we should, having regard to the abovementioned considerations, be against it."

"A suggestion made to us that the Court should be at liberty to put any question it pleases to an accused, even though he does not tender himself as a witness, is one that we cannot approve of."

"185. If our proposal is accepted that there shall be no commitment proceedings, the re-enactment or retention of section 13 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act (XIV of 1908) in its present form will not be appropriate. It is, however, necessary that the object which that section was intended to attain, namely, the protection of important witnesses and the perpetuation of their testimony, should be provided for. We think the statements of dead or absent witnesses made at either of two stages of the investigation should be made available for use by the Court, namely, (1) statements proved to have been made to a police officer not below the rank of Superintendent, where such statements have been recorded by such officer and read over and explained to the person making it and signed by him; (2) statements of witnesses made at the trial and not yet cross-examined upon—the condition making them admissible being in each case the same, namely, the belief of the Court that the death or absence of the deponent has been caused in the interests of the accused."

Perpetuation of testimony in particular circumstances.

"186. The Court should have the power, where and so far as they think it advisable in the public interests or for the safety of a witness, to exclude the public or any person from the hearing or any part of it and to prohibit any disclosure of their proceedings or any part of them either wholly or save as authorised by the tribunal, any such disclosure or purported disclosure being dealt with as a contempt of Court. This should not be done as a matter of course, but only where the tribunal is satisfied as to the necessity of it."

Other suggestions.

* * * * * *

"The cases to be tried subject to the provisions above sketched out will be such as are ordered to be so tried by Government, the power to make such orders being limited to certain classes of offences to be named in a schedule. This was the scheme of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908, the schedule to which might be adopted."

* * * * *

"188. The powers at present temporarily possessed by the Government are so far as material for the present purpose to be found in rules 3—7 inclusive and 12-A under the Defence of India Act, 1915. We do not refer for the present to the Foreigners Ordinance, 1914, or the Ingress into India Ordinance, 1914. * * * Shortly stated, their effect is to give power to require persons by executive order to remain in any area to be specified or not to enter or remain in any such area, with penalties for breach of such requirement. These orders may be made and served on the person affected, whereupon they become binding upon him, or the person may be arrested without warrant and detained for a period not exceeding in all one month, pending an order of restriction. There is also a power of search under search warrant. It will be observed there is no provision for an examination of the cases of such persons. The decision lies solely with the Local Government. There is also the power of confinement under Regulation III of 1818."

Existing temporary powers.

"189. We think that provision ought to be made for calling into operation (in the last resort and subject to safeguards) powers going to the full extent of those above quoted."

Scope of our proposals.

"But while we feel bound to formulate such a scheme, we think that the whole of it must be subject to the observance of four main principles—

(i) No interference with liberty must be penal in character. Nothing in the nature of conviction can be admitted without trial in strict legal form. If in the supreme interests of the community the liberty of individuals is taken away, an asylum must be provided of a different order from a jail.

(ii) Any interference with liberty must be safeguarded by an inquiry which, though circumstances exclude the possibility of its following forensic forms, must be judicial in the sense that it must be fair and impartial and as adequate as it can be made.

(iii) Every order (which should be made by the Local Government) authorising such interference must recite the holding of such inquiry and declare that, in the opinion of the Local Government, the measures ordered are necessary in the interests of public security.

(iv) The order must be made for a limited time only (say, not exceeding a year) and must be renewable only by a new order (not necessarily a new inquiry) reciting that the renewal is necessary in the interests of public security."

"190. We now proceed to elaborate, but without using drafting language or going into every detail, the scheme we suggest."

Two grades of powers desirable.

"We think, as we have already indicated, that the powers to be acquired should be of two grades capable of being called into operation separately, possibly under different forms of notification."

"The first group of powers should be of the following nature :—

(i) to demand security with or without sureties ;

(ii) to restrict residence or to require notification of change of residence ;

(iii) to require abstention from certain acts, such as engaging in journalism, distributing leaflets or attending meetings ;

(iv) to require that the person should periodically report to the police.

The second group of powers should be—

(i) to arrest ;

(ii) to search under warrant ;

(iii) to confine in non-penal custody."

"It is not conceivable that the second group of powers would be called into play without the first. Therefore after arrest and search there would be no objection (if thought sufficient) to making an order under the first group of powers."

"191. An 'investigating authority' or 'authorities' should be constituted, as to which we shall say more later on."

Creation of an investigating authority.

"If the first group of powers only is in force, the Government before making a final order should be required to refer the case to the investigating authority. They should, however, have power to make an interim order for a limited time. If the second group is in force, the person might be arrested and kept in custody for a time to be limited before the reference and thereafter pending the reference."

"The duty of the investigating authority will be to inquire in camera upon any materials which they may think fit and without being bound by rules of evidence. They would send for the person and tell him what is alleged against him and investigate the matter as fairly and adequately as possible in the manner of a domestic tribunal. It would not be necessary to disclose the sources of information, if that would be objectionable from the point of view of other persons. No advocates would be allowed on either side or witnesses formally examined, nor need the person whose case is under investigation be present during all the inquiry. Should such person indicate that other persons or any other inquiries may throw light on the matter from his point of view, the investigating authority would endeavour to test the suggestion if it seems relevant and reasonable. At the close of the inquiry the investigating authority would certify their conclusion to the Local Government."

"It will be noticed that though we have suggested the procedure to be followed by the investigating authority, we have not yet indicated our view as to what it should inquire into or the nature of its conclusions.

"192. This seems to us the most difficult of all the matters with which we have had to deal, and yet it is one as to which exactness is imperative. We think what is to be aimed at is that the order of restriction or the like should be executive, but on a basis of fact ascertained judicially (in the sense explained) by the investigating authority. If the investigating authority are to deal with the question of the order to be made, they acquire power without the responsibility for the results. The executive are responsible for the maintenance of law and order. The worst solution of all is that the investigating authority should recommend and that the executive should be able to disregard the recommendation. If, however, the investigating authority is to confine itself to facts, what is the question of fact to be ? The states of fact contemplated cannot be reduced to definitions like crimes such as murder and so on. If they could, no list that we can contemplate would cover the ground. Under these circumstances we suggest the following solution. Let the Government propound to the Committee in plain language what they suggest the man has done or is doing or is likely to do, and let the authority return in plain language what they find upon the subject. Then let the Government recite that finding in its order and proceed to deal with the man as it thinks necessary. The great object will thus be attained of making it known exactly what is ascertained against the man in fact apart from executive conclusion, but the responsibility for action will still rest solely on the Government. It is for consideration whether the order should not be published."

"The nature of the above suggestion explains why we have used the term "Investigating Authority" instead of "Advisory Committee". The use of the latter term seems to condemn one in advance to the embarrassments from which it is the whole object to escape."

"193. If the functions of the investigating authority are such as we have described, the difficulty of its composition is minimised. For an inquiry in a judicial spirit into facts knowledge and experience are the requisites. It has been suggested to us that the judicial, the executive and the non-official elements should be represented upon the body or bodies in question. Having indicated the functions which we recommend for the investigating authority, we do not feel that we are driven to give our views as to its exact composition. But we think we may say as based upon the experience gained in the course of our labours that one member should be a non-official Indian selected for his knowledge of the people."

Composition of the authority.

"194. We suggest one more provision to be made in this scheme of preventive measures. We think there should be Visiting Committees to report upon the condition of persons restricted in residence or in custody. We do not go into the question of the composition of these Committees. This may well vary in different parts of India and possibly in different parts of the same province or with reference to different communities. We were much struck by the useful work of this kind that can be done by Committees, working in very small areas, in the Punjab. Machinery so satisfactory may not be possible elsewhere. The Committees appointed must, of course, be persons who are prepared to accept the scheme and work it effectually though sympathetically."

Visiting Committees.

* * * * * *

"196. The scheme above set forth is, as has already been pointed out, designed for emergencies regarded as contingent. The powers involved are, therefore, to be dormant till the event occurs."

Treatment of existing offenders.

"There are, however, a limited class of persons, namely, those who have been involved in the troubles which have been described who constitute a danger not contingent but actual. Special and immediate provision is required for their case."

* * * * * *

"It seems to us that the simplest device is to provide that in respect of acts committed before the Defence of India Act expires (or an earlier date if preferred) and danger apprehended by reason of such acts in the future it should be lawful to proceed against any person under any of the provisions which we have outlined without any notification. In other words, the new law is to be deemed to be operative for that purpose immediately."

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1918-19.

[Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on, has in the five years ending 1916-17, averaged (a) 41·1 and (b) 18·7 per cent., respectively.]

Explanatory.—Three forecasts of the wheat crop are published. This forecast deals only with the area sown and the general condition of the crop in its early stages.

Area sown.—According to the estimates of District Officers the total area sown amounts to 109,700 acres against 122,700 and 124,000 acres returned in last year's first and final forecasts. The decrease in area is attributed to the unfavourable character of the season previous to seeding time.

Character of the season and condition of the crop.—The months of September and October were practically rainless in most districts, the principal wheat growing areas, viz., Malda, Rajshahi, Pabna, Murshidabad and Nadia being badly droughted. In addition, therefore, to a considerable reduction in area in these districts the general condition of the crop is reported to be poor.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

D.—The Directors shall not, without the previous consent in writing of the Government of India, allot any shares or register any transfer of shares which it may appear from the declaration to be made under Clause B would upon such allotment or transfer be held in contravention of Clause C.

E.—In the event of its being proved to the satisfaction of the Directors (a) that any share is at any time held in contravention of the provisions of Clause C or (b) that the declaration to be made under Clause B is untrue as regards any of the shares to which such declaration relates such shares shall in case (a), and may in case (b), be forfeited by resolution of the Directors, which shall be final and conclusive and not subject to question by any person on any ground whatever and upon such resolution being passed the holder of such shares shall cease to have any interest therein or claim against the Company in respect thereof or for the payment of any sums paid up thereon.
